"Our focus in this volume is to excite the reader's curiosity about our local history and stimulate the imagination, while presenting a general overview of some of the more readily verifiable events and stories of some of the people who lived and worked in North Tonawanda. We share the stories of both those who were well known and, about whom you may already know, and the stories of those who were relatively unknown and perhaps even forgotten. It is the firm belief of the North Tonawanda History Museum that each person's story is important in its own right."

Presented by The North Tonawanda History Museum

Editor: Executive Director, Donna Zellner Neal

Assistant Editor: John P. Zellner Neal

$40 each for the two-volume set.
